UNDER THE OAK. Why goes little Maude to the wood to-day. Wrapped in her mantle of silver-gray.

Tripping along o'er the fallen leaves, 'Neath the golden crown which the su Now a mingled shower of rod and gold Vicks her mantle in every fold. Why goes little Maude to the wood to day In her clock of red and gold and gray? Now she stays a while in her hurried walk 'Neath the shade of a giant branching oal The sunshine kisses her cheek so fair. And plays in her ringlets of floating hair. An acorn rattles upon her head, "Mid shower of leaves the oak boughs shed. A nimble squirrel with shining eye Watches her from a stump hard by. Now her dark eye brightens, and one hand Fasiens anew the golden band, Which binds her dark halr's shining flow Away from a throat and neck of snow.

The red lips part in a happy smile, The small foot beats to the time meanwhile, As she hums a snatch from an old, old song. Of "Love me little and love me long." Ah! little Maude, with the floating hair, And the red, red lips, and the face so fair, We read your heart in that speaking eye. In that flushing cheek and impatient sigh. In that restless foot and soft-sung tune.
And low words murmured, "Why don't he come?"

We know why you wait 'neath the oak to-day. Wrapped in your mantle of silver-gray. PRANCE AND BERINURROUNDINGS.

Napoleon is not dead, nor is Paris convulsed with a popular uprising, although the cable reported both on Saturday. It is no mean or unimportant compliment to the power of France and the position held by her Emperor, says the Philadelphia Age, that whenever it is necessary to dirturb Europe, the cause or causes are located in that nation. A rumor of the death of Francis Joseph, of Austria; the Czar, or the King of Prussia, would hardly cause a ripple on the surface of European politics. Statesmen and ministers might hazard an opinion as to the policy of the new potentate, and the money marts feel a slight tremor; but all would be quiet in a few hours. But let intelligence of the death of Napoleon be scattered ever the Old World, and the sea of politics and diplomacy is immediately lashed into a fury, and all the money centres tremble as if an earthquake shock the ground upon which they stand. These facts testify to the greatness of France, and the place occupied by her ruler among the crowned heads of Europe.

While this is the condition of affairs in the Old World, Napoleon is engaged in ceaseless efforts to consolidate the surroundings of France in her interests Ever since the establishment of the North German Confederation, the French Emperor has been anxious to conclude treaties with Holland, Belgium and Switzerland, to prevent these States from drifting into a dependency upon Prussia, and to secure the gradual control of their destinies for France. Several times the official papers of France have announced the success of the French efforts in concluding these treaties; but every time the governments of the three countries have promptly denied the truth of the French report. The last official contradiction has just been given by the Minister of the Netherlands. While it may be true that in none of these cases Napoleon has reached the desired goal, still the efforts point out the design, and let in light upon the real purposes of France towards the countries by which she is immediately surrounded. Napoleon has no desire for mere territorial aggrandizement. He does not covet the soil of Holland, or Belgium, or Switzerland. France is sufficient for his purposes in that respect. But he needs the co-operation of these Powers in order to leave France an unencumbered legacy to his son and heir. Especially is this the case since Prussia has announced and acted upon her consolidation theory. One by one the smaller states and kingdoms of Germany have been devoured by the insatiate monster of Prussian nationality, and princes deprized of their estates and authority, as school boys are stripped of nuts and apples by watchful pedagogues. It is against the spread of this wave of power that Napo. leon is interposing his plan. He i fighting fire with fire; meeting a conflagration with a counter conflagration, as they do on the Western prairies. While Prussia is harnessing all the small States of Germany to her car, Napoleon is endeavoring to convince Holland, Belgium and Switzerland that their true interests lie in strengthening France, as a breakwater, to shield

Will be succeed in this undertak ing? Is Prussia in a position to command or enforce her policy Holland has no cause to love Prussia. Belgium sprang from the hot and lusty loins of revolutionary France, and Switzerland does not hanker after consolidation such as that inaugurated and carried into effect under the persuasive eloquence of needle guns and cavalry sabres. These states have more to gain by leaning toward France than joining with Prussia. The former has not shown an inordinate greed or ap- Hats, carpet Bags, Satchets, etc., petite for territory. She gained comparatively nothing in her war with Austria, while adding broad and fertile provinces to the dominions of the King of Italy, But Prussia, like those unclean birds which haunt the battle fields to feed upon the dead, gorged herself neck-full of territory after the contest of Sado wa. And still the cry is more. She has set her heart upon other provances, and will draw them into the grand vortex of Prussian authority, unless prevented by the action of some power, her equal in strength, diplomacy and resolution. This is the vantage ground of Napoleon.

FROM THIS DATE, WE WILL OFFER OUR entire stock of Winter Bress Goods at prices that will insure their sale. Those who are not yet supplied will do well to look in, as we are going to sell them, and no humbug. We have on hand a fine assortment of Blankets, Flannels, Hosiery, Men's and Ladics' Gloves, Cloths and Cassimerce, Ladies' Glores, etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

this French movement may deny the truth of the French report, but that is a usual resort of diplomacy, and proves nothing in opposition to the French theory. In the great game now playing between France and Prussia, Napoleon holds the master cards, and he will play them at the right time. The odd trick will fall to his side of the table.

Bull's Worm Destroyer. TO MY UNITED STATES AND WORK WIDE READERS.

I have received many testimonials from pro-fessional and medical men, as my almanaes and various publications have shown, all of which are gaugine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensi-ble communications! ble communications I have ever received. Or. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of and his testimony deserves to be written in worth of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of Bull's WGRM DESTROYER:

VALLANOW, WALKER COUNTY, GA., DR. JOHN BULL-Dear Sir: I have recent

DR. John Bull.—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to compess that knew of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and specify in its effects. On the contrary they are uncortain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out spen what terms I can get its upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the BRULLER line of Mr. D.'s, but I see no lust cause or good sense in discarging a remedy which we know to be efficient, samply because we may be ignorant of treombination. For my part, I shall make it ruleto use all and any means to alleviate suffer a planmanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned lits effects first, and secured the sole right to means an alvocate or supporter of the

A GOOD REASON FOR THE CAL TAIN'S FAITH

Benton Barracks, Mo., April 30. Benton Barracks, Mo., April 20, '83.

Dr. John Bull. Dear Sir: Knowing the officiency of your Sarsaparilia, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case:

I was wounded about two vears agro-was taken prisoner and commend for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than apything cles. I wish that that was genuine. Please express me half a doesn bottles, and oblige CAPT. U. P. JOHNSON.

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My hunband, Br. C. S.
Johnson, was askillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhea and scrotula, for which I gave him your Sarsararjila. It curach mm. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York. Ohio rarjila. It curred him. I have for ten years recommended it to many injNew York. Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores, and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The curres effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous, I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is "testral of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible but I believe he will recover.

AGUE AND CHILLS AND F The proprietor of this celebrated medicino ustly daims for it a superiority over all remdies ever offered to the public for the safe, cartain, speedy and permanent cure of Ane, and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the en-tire Western and South-western country to bear him testimony to the truth of the asser-tion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed bear him testimony to the train of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by single bottle, with a perfect restoration of general health. It is, however, prudent, and if every case more certain to cure, if its use is contined in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonte, a single dose of BULL's Vegetable Family Pils will be audicine.
